

Adventures
by Charlotte A. Turnbull
ACMF National Songwriting Competition 2017

I thought that you knew what I wanted to do
You said to me, "My dear, we're so far from where we are.
Let's follow the stars."

I thought that you knew that I wanted to fly
You said that you knew what you wanted
But you never said why.
You never said why.

Chorus

And even as the snow falls on the mountain
I'll always be holding you near
And even if we're miles apart from each other
I'll always be with you, my dear.

I jumped away from you from cloud to cloud
I'd climb up that tree before you chopped it down.
You chopped it down.

I swam through that river before it died down
The water that was clear and bright turned murky and brown
My world turned upside down.

Chorus

And even as the snow falls on the mountain
I'll always be holding you near
And even if we're miles apart from each other
I'll always be with you, my dear.

Bridge

Making mistakes is the way we learn
Nobody cares where you've been, oh.

I guess now we're parted
But I'll always remember
The sights and the sun
And the flowers of September.
Tell me you'll remember.