

Better Place by Jazzy Dale

Things aren't the same when I wake in the morning
Left us too soon without a warning mmmm Pictures of you remind me of times when you held me close with your hands on mine

I hoped you'd know, I hoped you'd see
how much you meant to me
Now your in a better place, a better place
No you won't be replaced, your in a better place

I close my eyes at night and I see you
I know it was hard but you still tried to push on through Memories remain of just you and I
No matter what yeah they're still alive

I hoped you'd know, I hoped you'd see
how much you meant to me
Now your in a better place, a better place
No you won't be replaced, your in a better place

Now your in a better place, a better place
No you won't be replaced, your in a better place
