

Beautiful Boy (Catching Tears)

By Charlotte Sharrin

Intro

Who are you?

Who are you now?

You hide your twitch

And your bitten thumb

Verse 1

Your face is a pale white but there's a shadow

Hanging over you

There's bags bellow your lashes

Hanging from the holes

Which you call eyes but yours are holes

They used to be blue and deep like the ocean

And now they're gone

Chorus

So who are you now?

You're lost inside your body

Someone has taken your soul

Your father is calling beautiful boy

There's tears in his eyes as you stare at him blankly

With the devil's eyes

Verse 2

Ruins with red flames and broken walls

Shattered plates and cups lying on the floor

You're holding it in and he's teasing it out

Until you're crying into your hands once more

Verse 3

Catching tears before they hit the floor

Flowers bursting now there's hope once more

Ohhhh

Bridge

So do you, want

To be normal again

Your teardrops crystalize

So who are you, now?

You're lost inside your body

Someone's taken your soul

Verse 4

Your father is calling beautiful boy

There's tears running down his face

As you stare at him blankly

With the devil's eyes.
