

Holes and Heavy Hearts

Lyrics by Natasha Fenton © 2018

Holes and heavy hearts
Strung together with pieces of ribbon
Clean me up make me glisten Blinded by a blur of lights,
You stole my heart that very night
And I didn't wanna get it back
And you smiled cos you knew that very fact

You're the calm before the storm,
You're the thunder that seems to roar
And you're the rain, but raindrops won't wash away the pain

Tell me lies, those bitter sweet lies, open you're your eyes
you met him with an appetite and he's gonna bite
but players play the game to fast, if you lose their love you're in the past
Fallen to the darkest night, but they build you up with neon lights
Saying ooh come back come back to me, I said no we're strangers in agony.

Lately I've been trynna make a mend I've been holding myself to my word
But I past the warning signs
And I didn't see no end in sight
Just a leaf in your wind, another fish in your ocean.

You're the monster in the night, you can bark but you'll never bite and I'm ashamed that I let you take me away

Tell me lies, those bitter sweet lies, open you're your eyes
you met him with an appetite and he's gonna bite
but players play the game to fast, if you lose their love you're in the past
Fallen to the darkest night, but they build you up with neon lights
Saying ooh come back come back to me, I said no we're strangers in agony.

Should I leave now? Should I leave you with the pain?
I could go now, but I would never get back again.
It's not a secret, but I couldn't keep it anyways I'd fall to pieces if I didn't know you're name Cos I like to play you're Game....

Tell me lies, those bitter sweet lies, open you're your eyes
you met him with an appetite and he's gonna bite
but players play the game to fast, if you lose their love you're in the past
Fallen to the darkest night, but they build you up with neon lights
Saying ooh come back come back to me, I said no we're strangers in agony.